

Year 2 Green Autumn 2: Who Was Mary Seacole?

School value: Resilience – Even with faced with challenges, we give 100%

Topic Sticky Knowledge
History	From a young age Mary Seacole had a keen interest in medicine and nursing. At 12 she started to help her mother heal sick and injured soldiers.
	As an adult, Mary heard about the Crimean war and she wanted to help. She went to London and asked to join Florence Nightingale and her team of nurses but she was turned down.
	Mary made her own way over to the Crimean war using her own money to pay for travel and medical supplies.
	When Mary arrived, she saw that many soldiers were cold, dirty and hungry. She opened a “British Hotel” near the battlefields, where soldiers could buy hot food, drinks and equipment. Mary used this money to pay for medical supplies.
	Keeping healthy means caring for your body so you have enough energy to learn, play and grow.
Science	All foods contain nutrients which your body needs to stay active throughout the day. Some foods have more nutrients than others.
	It's important not to eat too much sugar and salt: sugary foods are bad for your teeth and can be fattening, and salty foods can lead to heart disease.
	It's important to have 30-60 minutes of exercise every day. This can include running around and playing games with friends.
	Mary was from Jamaica, an Island in the Caribbean. She travelled to London, and then to the Crimean war which was in Russia.
Geography	Mary travelled across the Atlantic Ocean and across from one continent to another.
